Accompanied by photography and political art, Ensenando Rebeldía is a compilation of testimonies from longtime organizers, teachers, students, housewives, religious leaders, union members, schoolchildren, indigenous community activists, artists and journalists--and many others who participated in what became the Popular Assembly of the People's of Oaxaca. This is a chance to listen directly to those invested in and affected by what quickly became one of the most important social uprisings of the 21st century.

Review

"Presents an inspiring tapestry of voices from the recent popular uprisings in Oaxaca. The reader is embraced with the cries of anguish and triumph, indignation and overwhelming joy, from the heart of this living rebellion." Peter Gelderloos, author, "How Nonviolence Protects the State," on the English-language edition"

"These remarkable people tell us of the historic teachers' struggle for justice in Oaxaca, Mexico, and of the larger, hemispheric battle of all Indigenous people to end five hundred years of racism and repression." Jennifer Harbury, author, "Truth, Torture and the American Way," on the English-language edition"

"[Provides] excellent context to understand the 2006 uprising and extensive and eloquent interviews with the participants themselves; an amazing read and an important contribution to the literature of contemporary rebellion." John Gibler, author, "Mexico Unconquered," on the English-language edition" About the Author Diana Denham is the coordinator for C.A.S.A. Chapulin, a center for international solidarity based in Oaxaca, Mexico. She formerly worked with the Landless Movement for Agrarian Reform in Brazil and also produced "The Right to Share in Our Wealth," a documentary film about a local political project by the Workers Party aimed at the inclusion of traditionally marginalized sectors of Brazilian society. Colectivo C.A.S.A. is an organization that facilitates the work of international activists as human rights observers, independent journalists, and volunteers for grassroots organizations."
